

SPECTER 1

Now check this shit out! We got The Lincoln going past the 6th floor window of The Texas Schoolbook Depository. Lee Harvey Oswald, the lone gunman, fires three bullets from here in just under five seconds. Four three two one, just like that!

Stay with me folks, it just gets better and better. The first shot? It's a miss, however Oswald's second try is the one we are most impressed by. Why? Firstly the foliage is really dense, lovely town, Dallas. Let's look at the massive amount of damage this little fucker was able to do.

Now the second bullet enters the President's back at a 25 degree downward angle. This little honey hits the first thoracic vertebrae, shoots up, to be more specific your honor, the bullet completely changes direction and exits just underneath Kennedy's Adams Apple. The bullet goes clean through the fabric of his shirt, just barely clipping the upper left quadrant of his tie knot.

But wait, there's more. Our next stop for the bullet is in the back of Governor Connolly. It exits below the right nipple, nothing surprising there, just a regular bullet shattering his fifth rib. It goes through his right nipple OUCH with shards of bone, and BAM takes a detour to wrist town, where it cleanly breaks the radius. Following me? Sure you are.
